

Win a Kayaking Package

From the Record-Eagle and Gander Mountain

For a little relaxation or a complete break from the everyday, kayaking offers any fortunate paddler the opportunity to escape from the mundane and experience northern Michigan from a completely different point of view.

"Kayaking is a great way to hang out with friends, get some exercise, and enjoy the beauty of northern Michigan," said Deb Sears, recreational kayaker from Traverse City. Sears has been kayaking for two years and finds it to be a great way to explore the area. With Upper and Lower Michigan offering numerous opportunities for paddlers of all skill levels, the sport quickly captured the heart of this no-longer-novice enthusiast.

As a local outdoor retailer, Gander Mountain in Traverse City has helped outfit many happy paddlers in the area. "Kayaking has become a major recreational pastime in this community," says Mike Ebach, General Manager of Gander Mountain in Traverse City. "It's great to see so many people of all ages getting into the sport for the first time."

"It's more than something to do after work," explains Kelli Duranczyk of Traverse City. "Kayaking gives me the freedom to explore areas I couldn't otherwise reach. I can't imagine not taking advantage of that kind of opportunity."

If you're looking for the perfect kayak for your needs, or if you just want to talk with a fellow enthusiast, stop by Gander Mountain in Traverse City, located in the Horizon Outlets off US 31 South.
