

Steve & Amy Stinson • Mgr. Pam Dow
Watercolor Instructor Chuck Forman

Art & Soul Gallery

Contemporary Gifts of Fine Art & Craftsmanship

5754 U.S. 31 North • Acme, MI 49610

Owners: Steve & Amy Stinson 231-938-5900

Stepping inside the door of the Art & Soul Gallery, you are immediately taken by this region's most fascinating works of fine art.

Owners Steve and Amy Stinson are celebrating the gallery's one-year anniversary and are thrilled with the direction it has taken. The foundation of the gallery is built around more than 120 regional artists with pieces including jewelry, pottery, watercolors, blown glass, and much more. Art & Soul Gallery in the Acme Plaza, just south of the Grand Traverse Resort, offers patrons a very unique gallery experience. Classes are also available in watercolor, jewelry making, sculpting, meditation, and yoga - giving visitors hands-on experience with the beauty that surrounds them.

Commercial Interior Design - Amy Stinson is also busy providing interior decorating and design for local restaurants and offices.

For more details on upcoming events, or to just chat about art with fellow enthusiasts, stop in and see us at Art & Soul Gallery or call 231-938-5900.

3/22-482990-FO

Cedar Creek Retirement Village

Rick Meyer moved to Traverse City in 1977 with the goal of building his general contracting business in an environment that provided the quality of life he wanted for his family. An outdoorsman who enjoys the vast array of recreational opportunities the area offers, Meyer created a successful business with Meyer Construction.

In 1994, Meyer began planning an active retirement community situated alongside Cedar Creek off Cherry Bend Road in Leelanau County, just three miles from downtown Traverse City. The first phase of development included single-family residences and duplexes, followed in 1998 with the opening of Orchard Creek Assisted Living on the east side of Cherry Bend Road. Development continued with Cedar Creek Senior Apartments, which opened in 2001 with 49 one-, two-, and three-bedroom apartments, and then in July 2002 with Orchard Creek Dementia Care.

This summer Meyer will complete his vision of continuing care retirement community, which was inspired by his mother Pat, when he opens Orchard Creek Skilled Nursing, providing every level of care for area seniors from living independently through nursing home care.

A second-generation general contractor, Meyer was especially pleased last year when his mother moved from her Florida home to become a Cedar Creek resident doing what many seniors do: moving closer to be near family.

For more information about the many opportunities at Cedar Creek Retirement Village, contact John Baynton at (231) 932-9121.

3/22-482990-FO