the reputation it has earned as being a "don't miss" event.

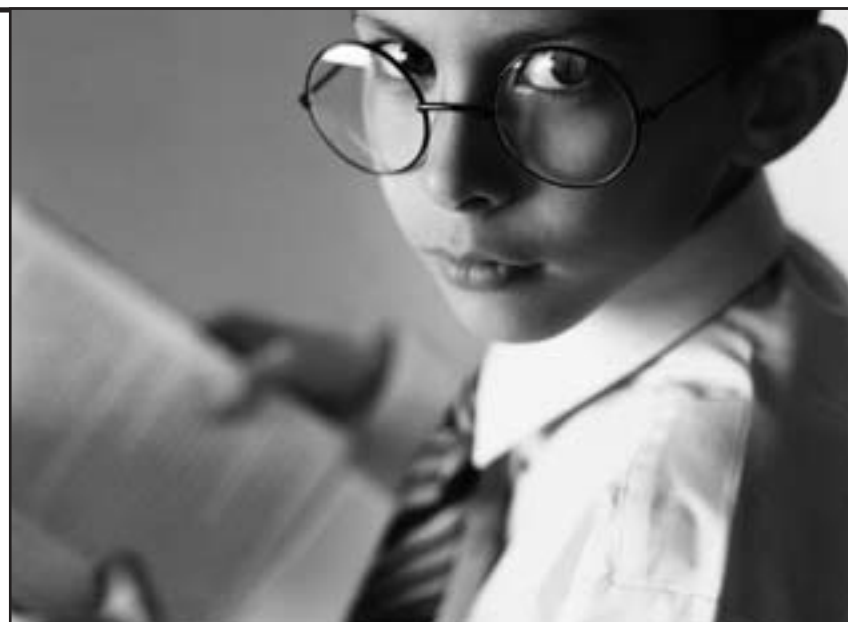

"It is truly the best way for home buyers to choose a new home, select a home builder, or take in what's new and exciting for your own home," said Dulac. "We want to invite the public to tour the work of the area's best builders. With so much to see, we're sure you'll find a home — or maybe several — to love. After all, this is where dream homes come true."

The Parade of Homes tour includes a Plan Book of all of the Parade Homes, and last year nearly 35,000 were distributed to area residents. The Plan Book is also made available at the Home Builders Web site at www.hbagta.com. More than 53,000 visits were logged at the Parade of Homes Web site in 2003.

Tickets can be purchased in advance — at a reduced cost — at HBA headquarters, and at any of the tour homes during the actual home tour. Upon purchase of a ticket, which gets you into every home on the Parade route, you receive a map to the homes and a description of each property. Each map has colored dots that signify the locations of the homes, and is set up beginning at the HBAGTA headquarters on Veteran's Drive to make it the shortest driving distance possible.
