

Local books for the holidays

Northern Michigan Almanac

By Ron Jolly

This anthology contains more than 600 pages of often surprising facts about northern Michigan geography, history and government. There is also a section on northern Michigan pop culture.

Legends of Light: A Michigan Lighthouse Portfolio

By Edward Wargin

Michigan's lighthouses are brought to life in this book of images by photographer Edward Wargin. The lighthouses include popular tourist favorites as well as lighthouses that are off the beaten path.

Seasons of Little Traverse Bay

By Terry W. Phipps

This collection by photographer Terry Phipps is the third in the Michigan Photographer Series by Petoskey Publishing in Traverse City.

Has Anyone Seen Christmas?

By Anne Margaret Lewis

This is the story of Emit the elf, who has been chosen by Santa to navigate his sleigh on Christmas Eve. When Emit falls off the sleigh, he must travel through all the other holidays before he finds Christmas — and its real meaning

Mac's Mackinac Island Adventure

By Mary Beth Vachon

A horse named Mac, who is told he will never try anything new, goes on an adventure on Mackinac Island, exploring the island and learning about himself.
