Second Grade Ms. Lindsay Vanderpohl

Dear Santa,
 Merry Christmas! How is Snowball? How are the Arlington elves? Thank you for the ballpet. I would only like one thing.

Can I please have a camera for Christmas? I would love to have a camera for Christmas because my mom never lets me take pictures on her phone. My daddy never lets me take pictures on his phone. Bubby never lets me take pictures on his phone.

My family loves to take pictures. My family never gets good pictures on their phones. On our trips, we never get good pictures. My mommy, Bubby, and daddy never get good pictures on their phones.

Love, Bethany W.

Dear Santa,
 How are the elves? How is Mrs. Claus? How are the reindeer?

Let me explain why I would like six fake nut-crackers for my family members. They are for my heart, for my brother, my sisters, mom, and dad.

Thanks for Christmas. Thanks for all that you do.
Love, Henry W.

Dear Santa,
 How is Mrs. Claus? How are the elves? How do you fit down the chimney?

Let me explain why I would like Minecraft People. It's entertaining. It is fun! I can share them with my brother.

Love, Maddux L.

Dear Santa,
 Merry Christmas! How is Mrs. Claus? How are the elves? How is Rudolph? Thank you for helping children.

Let me explain why I would like a laptop. I need to learn. I can share with my family. It has a clock so I know to go to bed.

I hope you have fun and I will too!

Love, Ella H.

Dear Santa,
 Merry Christmas! How are the elves? How are Rudolph and Mrs. Claus? Thank you for giving me gifts last Christmas!

Let me tell you why I should have a wooden art set. It will help with art skills. It will help me paint, color, and draw. I can make pictures. I can make cards and make hearts.

Santa, I hope you have a safe Christmas. I will have cookies out and milk for you!

Love, Ciara H.

Dear Santa,
 Merry Christmas, Santa! How are the elves? I hope they are working very, very hard for Christmas. Santa, I thank you for all the presents. I loved all of them.

Santa, I would like a phone. I can call people, text people, and take pictures, too. I can track time for school. I can download games for me to learn on it. If I do not know how to do something I can go on Google and it will tell me.

I love you Santa. I love the reindeer and I think that I am going to bring cookies out, chocolate milk, and carrots for the reindeer to eat. Merry Christmas!

Love, Shianne S.

Dear Santa,
 How is Mrs. Claus? How are you? Thank you for last year's presents.

I want puppies because they would be cute! They would make me laugh. I would have responsibility. I would take care of them. I would love them forever. I want 4 puppies.

If you give me 4 puppies, I will wish you a Merry Christmas.

Love, Tyden C.

Dear Santa,
 Merry Christmas. I hope the reindeer are okay. Thank you for helping all the children.

I want for Christmas is Lego Friends. I've been waiting a long time for Lego Friends. Let me explain why you could give me Lego Friends. It is because I can be a problem solver and work hard or be a good builder.

Have a good Christmas.
Love, Samantha P.

Dear Santa,
 Do you like this holiday? How is my elf? Is she feeling good? How is Mrs. Claus? Thank you for your Christmas spirit.

Let me explain why you could get me some puppys. I would really want some. They would be fluffy. They would be cute. They are soft. They are warm. They are going to be awesome.

Have a safe Christmas!
Love, Ruthie B.

Dear Santa,
 How is the reindeer? How is Rudolph? How are the elves? Thank you for helping children.

Let me explain why I want a Play Station 3. I could have quality family time. It will entertain me. I would let my mom and dad play You Tube videos for us to watch Storybots for space.

Merry Christmas! As always, thanks!
Love, Jeremiah M.

Dear Santa,
 I love you Santa. When am I going to get my elf?

Let me explain why I would like a 3DS. It is fun! Games like Minecraft help with problem solving.

I hope you have a Merry Christmas.

Love, Ricky S.

Dear Santa,
It's your pal, Draven. I think I've been a really good boy this year, but mom says I am rotten. I have learned so much this year at pre-school and I'm really getting smart, also thanks to Blaze and the Monster Machines and Paw Patrol cartoons. Those are my favorite shows. Your elf, Zittle has arrived and I am talking to him mostly telling him when Dad is a bad boy. Well enough of the small talk, let's get to the point. This year I would like a case to store my Hot Wheels in and a track set for them to race on. I would also like a new Nabi 2S tablet, the one from last year quit working. Oh, and a drum set because as if I don't give mom and dad enough headaches now, let's add more noise! I must get my musical talents from dad but not his singing; I get that from my mom. Please bring me some clothes and surprises! Thanks for all the presents last year as well. I will have cookies and milk waiting for you. Stop in Heaven for Sissy too and tell her thanks for watching over me, because you and I both know I need all the watching over me I can get. Safe travels Santa.

Your pal,
Draven T. Brinson

Dear Santa,
My name is Kellen Nicholas Rankin and I am 4 years old. Marco is our elf. For Christmas, I would like a race track with loopy loops and ramps. Also a grave digger monster truck, puzzles and a scooter. I live in Arlington with my dog Bogart and big sister Kinsley in the green house on the corner. So don't forget them also.

Love,
Kellen

Tips for visiting an in-store Santa

Christmastime is filled with many different traditions. Many people decorate their homes with Christmas trees, and songs are sung with family members who come from near and far to share gifts and companionship.

Families with young children often make visiting Santa Claus a part of their annual traditions. During the holiday season, Santa can be found taking up residence in department stores and malls across the country. Thousands of children and their parents will wait in line to get some face time with jolly old St. Nick. The following are a handful of ways to make kids' visits with Santa even more pleasant.

- Do a test run. If your child has not taken a photo with Santa before, he or she may be frightened and the result will be a poor photograph. The beard and the red coat coupled with the fact that kids are sitting on a stranger's lap can be terrifying for youngsters. Acclimate your child to the experience by visiting the mall to see Santa and become familiar with what he looks like and how he acts. It may take a couple of visits before your child is ready to wait in line for the real visit.

- Go off-peak. Visit Santa when the store just opens or when lines are not as long, such as during school hours or during dinner time. This should cut down on the wait and create a less tense experience. Confirm visiting hours so you don't arrive only to find he's out to lunch or feeding his reindeer. Do not schedule anything after the Santa visit, so you don't feel rushed.

- Dress comfortably. Wear comfortable shoes and clothing so neither you nor the kids will be uncomfortable. The goal is to look nice for the photo, but not at the expense of the children's comfort level. And while you should be comfortable as well, be sure to look presentable, in the event you have to hop into the photo if that's the only way your son or daughter will tolerate the experience.

- Pack some supplies. Bring snacks and drinks for the kids so hunger does not make them antsy. Bring along a change of clothes in case someone spills food or spits up before your turn.

- Get Santa recommendations. Ask friends and neighbors which Santas they visit. Many stores will have a Santa on hand, but not every Santa is as adept at handling children. You want someone who is used to making children feel welcome and comfortable.

Above all, try to have a good time and don't expect perfection. Sometimes the best Santa-visit moments are the ones that are unrehearsed.

In the Nick of time

The advantages of last-minute shopping

Tackling tasks well in advance has many advantages, and often it is in one's best interest to be ahead of the game, including when the game at hand is holiday shopping.

But men and women who simply can't get a head start on their holiday shopping need not fear, as waiting until the eleventh hour to do the bulk of your shopping can have some distinct advantages, too.

Consumer Reports' 2012 Holiday Poll found 9 percent of shoppers — an estimated 17 million people — planned to shop in stores on Christmas Eve in 2012. Many stores are still open on Christmas Eve, even if the doors are only unlocked for a limited number of hours. That gives shoppers one last chance to find the perfect presents. In addition to having more time to decide on gifts, here are some other benefits to shopping later in the season.

- Smaller crowds: As the holiday season winds down, many shoppers have already completed their shopping. Fewer people tend to be in stores in the final days before Christmas, as they are readying their homes for company or making travel plans. This can be a prime time for shopping and getting through malls or other retailers in less time.

- Discounted prices: Anxious to reduce inventory and make the most of end-of-the-year profits, stores may discount merchandise even further for fast sale. Shoppers anxious to save a little bit more or come in under budget may find waiting to shop is to their financial advantage.

- Lower chance of discovery: One difficulty of shopping early is keeping all of the gifts hidden for the duration of the month. Waiting until later to shop means only having to camouflage gifts for a few days. When you wait, curious kids are less likely to find their gifts before the big day.

- Last-minute specials: Some online retailers offer "doorbuster" sales at various times during the holiday shopping season. These sales may offer additional discounts or even free shipping. Just be sure to balance the benefits of the discount against the shipping price. If it means having to pay a premium for overnight shipping, it may not be worth the investment.

- More time to plan: By the end of the holiday season you may have a better idea of what you need to purchase. You also may have polled others regarding what they are giving, reducing the chances of giving duplicate gifts.

- Gift cards galore: Some people prefer to give gift cards, which are available all season long. Consumer Reports says 62 percent of last-minute shoppers grab gift cards. If you fall into that category, waiting to buy the cards won't be an issue so long as you make it to the stores before they close. Last-minute shopping has its advantages. If time is ticking away, there are still deals to be had.

Final days with your Elf on a Shelf elves are magical helpers that help Santa Claus with the naughty and nice list. They do this by reporting back to the North Pole each night.

come up with new places and ideas for each day.

After talking with some parents and looking at some Facebook pages, here are some of my favorites that might just get parents over the hump and on to Christmas day.

- Late-night movie — Place your elf around a bowl of popcorn and the TV remote to look as though he had a long night watching movies.
- Chocolate face — Put chocolate on the elf's face and lay him next to crumbs and an open chocolate candy bar.

- Rice Krispies Treat — Put the elf behind a plate of Rice Krispies treats with a bowl of Rice Krispies and a bowl of marshmallows.
- Grocery list — Put the elf next to a "grocery list" with only candy items (candy canes, marshmallows, ice cream, cookies, etc.)

- Stuck in a jar — If you have a candy dish or cookie container with a lid, put the elf halfway in with lid closing on him as if he is stuck trying to sneak a treat.
- Family portrait mischief — Use a dry erase marker to put a fake mustache on Dad and Mom in a photo and have the elf nearby holding the marker.
- Building blocks —

Use the building blocks with letters on them to send a message to your youngster... "Eat your veggies"

- Dog treats — For those of you with pets, take some animal treats and put them by the elf and leave a note reading, "Worst cookies ever. Don't leave out for Santa."
- Banana minions — Take a sharpie and draw minion faces on bananas and leave the elf next to them with the sharpie.
- Elf milk — Take green food coloring and add to milk to make it "elf milk."
- Roasting marshmallows — Put small marshmallows on toothpick with your elf holding the marshmallow over a candle.
- Message on the mirror — Write with toothpaste "Elf was here" on the bathroom mirror and have elf holding the toothpaste.
- Under glass — Place the elf under a glass with a "HELP" sign on the inside with the elf.
- On strike — Leave the elf with a sign that says "on strike" and another that says the child needs to "listen to your parents."
- And my favorite of all ...
- Broken leg — Wrap your Elf's leg in a "cast" and leave a note that he was hurt on his last trip to the North Pole and won't be able to make the trip for a couple days ... parents are off the hook for a few days.

Dear readers and advertisers,

We are overjoyed to see that the Herald-Tribune, Greensburg Daily News and the Rushville Republican are the media you turn to year after year for local news and information. We take it very seriously that you choose us over any other media to advertise your business, your goods and your services.

You are the reason we strive to deliver a newspaper that exceeds your expectations and we can't thank you enough for your loyalty and trust.

We wish you and your loved ones a magnificent holiday season and hope that the year ahead is a very prosperous one for you.

The entire team
