Features: Formerly Lebanon Community Golf and Country Club... a semi-private, eighteen hole championship golf course located two miles west of Lebanon, Missouri and nine miles east of Bennett Spring State Park. The course features a driving range, putting green, and chipping green with three sets of tees stretching to 6435 yards. Gently rolling hills offer a track that affords elevation changes, large contoured greens, water hazards, a large “sinkhole” on the Par 3, Sixteenth hole, and numerous options in shot selection on the Par 4’s and 5’s. The Par 4, Fourth hole presents an opportunity to cut a 90 degree dogleg left over trees with your drive to possibly reach the green or play it as a conventional Par 4. The Ninth and Eighteenth holes share a huge green divided by a large bunker, that can make for some interesting, lengthy putts. With a mix of tight, tree-lined fairways and some that are more forgiving, the course definitely presents a variety of play.

With every swing, you're given a real-time analysis of every shot (including speed, velocity, spin, trajectory, etc.) as the ball's flight is played back on the bay's large-screen monitor.

Fun makes perfect, at least that's what we believe. Whether you are a PGA Pro or picking up a club for the first time, our games are designed to allow players of all skill levels to have fun and have a chance to win. Top 10 Reasons Kids Should Play Golf

1 Develop Life Long Benefits: Benefits of golf include making life-long friends and learning a game that can be played.

2 Spend Quality Time with Family: Golf can be an event around which all family members can gather for several hours. It is a great opportunity for parents to provide positive feedback and encouragement to children.

3 Spending Time Outdoors: Walking and being active in the outdoors allows for breathing in fresh air and establishes healthy exercise habits, far beyond indoor video games or television.

4 Business Skills: In addition to etiquette and the ability to play comfortably with new acquaintances, golf teaches self-confidence, improves the ability to work with numbers, and applies problem solving skills that are critical in business.

5 Anyone Can Play: Men, women, children, people from all over the globe and all walks of life come together on a golf course. The diversity found on a golf course opens young golfers to a broader view of the world and all people.

6 Self-Improvement: Golf challenges the player toward constant self-improvement. Players analyze what they did well and what has to change to improve. Players develop habits of self-improvement by self-analysis skills, seeking professional instruction, and accepting critiques from others.

7 Etiquette and Values: Golf has a rich tradition of etiquette which lives on today. Playing golf teaches youth how to behave towards self and others, and imparts values such as truthfulness and strength during adversity.

8 Health: Golf is an active game and is less injury prone than contact sports. Conditioning for golf improves strength of core muscles that support the spine, improves flexibility, and allows participants the opportunity to be active and fit.

9 Controlling Emotions: In golf there are achievements and disappointments. Learning from mistakes and overcoming obstacles improves a player's game, and teaches them to optimistically carry out the same pattern in life.

10 Fun: Young people grow up too quickly in today's busy, technological world. Gathering with friends to play golf gives young golfers the opportunity to spend enjoyable times in friendly competition or collegial companionship.
