

Jane Haines

For Ward 5 City Council

The Voice we want, the Change we need

Jane has a long history of community involvement, and has mastered many skills that would be useful as a city council person.

As a citizen, property owner, business owner and community activist, Jane sees the challenges the city faces, the challenges the business community faces, and the challenges the people of Ashtabula face.

Jane feels her greatest skill is the ability to think quickly and react appropriately to a changing world. She has both the ability to lead and the ability to follow and will work well with city officials, City Council, County Commissioners, and the State of Ohio to move Ashtabula forward.
